

"As a licensed and highly experienced Medical Doctor (MD), I've consulted over 150,000 people in my career. I've observed the considerable role that nutrition plays in health & wellness. Every formula of mine is born out of substantial first-hand evidence-based clinical experience, extensive observation, post graduate education, certification & research, in addition to long-term testing in an advanced healthcare setting to examine therapeutic efficacy. I'm not some formulator touting the latest fads in wellness, or some guru blindly promoting the wild and unrestrained use of nutrient products without evidence of therapeutic benefit. My substantial clinical experience in countless inpatient and outpatient healthcare scenarios has demonstrated that the application of specific combinations of diet, vitamins, minerals, superfoods and select phytonutrients can result in synergistic enhancements, where the whole is far greater than the sum of its parts. I personally designed DBTZ specifically to address the nutrition needs, glycemic response needs and glucose uptake of uncontrolled or erratic blood sugar, using world-class, clinically demonstrated ingredients. I'm immensely proud of DBTZ and I hope you enjoy it."*
